VENDING SOLUTIONS WITH OPTIPAY™

JCM KNOWS MONEY.

With our "Smart Pay" technology, we are changing the vending industry. Consumers can, for the first time, put bills in a machine and receive the correct change in both notes and coin. Adding this much money-changing flexibility to vending machines is a definite sales boost, so you can take in more profits than ever. And that's something you will want to know more about.

WHO WE ARE.

JCM American Corporation is the worldwide leader and the most trusted name in currency management. We date back to the mid-1950s when we began the task of creating more efficient cash handling solutions in Japan. When we incorporated in the United States, we were immediately at the forefront of a rapidly changing industry.

From the cash machine market to casino gaming to vending, our products have delivered critical solutions for our customers. Our expertise has led to strong relationships with the U.S. Treasury and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, enabling us to routinely meet with these agencies as new currency is developed, as well as giving us access to new money prior to general distribution. In short, we can have software upgrades available to our clients before the newly designed currency is in the consumer's hands.

We believe in constant innovation, forever improving our products to achieve higher efficiency and lower operating costs.

So you will always have more options for your operations.

And of course, we will always listen to your ideas and challenges, so we can continue to create leading solutions.
